Gigantic Indian War Anticipated.

OMAHA, June 23.—Advices from Spotted Tail's agency state that three large war parties left that vicinity on the 17th, one for each Ponca or Pawnee, Crow and Shoshone reservations. It is thought among posted men that a gigantic Indian war is about to be inaugurated, and information has been sent to Indian agents.

The Black Hills Gold Fields.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Specials from the Black Hills expedition give details confirming Custer's gold reports. The formation is slate with quartz veins, also coarse granite. Prospectors have found gold everywhere for seven miles along French creek. The soldiers have panned it out in their shovels. The Tribune's special says the highest yield is 7 cents per pan. No survey has yet been made to ascertain the extent of the gold field, but it is supposed to include all gulches running from Harney's Peak. Professor Jenny is cautious about giving an opinion. Rich gold quartz is also reported, but no prospect and assay has yet been made. No Indians have disturbed the command, though their signs are abundant.

Proposed Consolidation of the Union and Kansas Pacific Railroads.

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—The Republican's Kansas City special says a rumor of a proposed consolidation of the Kansas Pacific and U. P. R. R. is creating a great stir in this city. The Railroad Co. intend to run their own express. Dillon, president of the Union Pacific, and five directors of the different roads were here this morning. It is probable through freight and Pullman cars will be run from St. Louis to Ogden, and over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern railroad.

The Postmaster General in the Chicago Chamber of Commerce.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—Postmaster General Jewell came here to-day, and at noon was on the floor of the Chamber of Commerce, where he was introduced to the members by Col. Hallowell, the president. Gen. Jewell made a few remarks touching on the prosperity and magnitude of the great West, and at the close was enthusiastically applauded.

Complaint against Peter B. Sweeney Filed.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Complaint in the suit brought in the name of the People against Peter B. Sweeney, to recover over $7,000,000, alleged to have been fraudulently abstracted from the treasury of the county of New York, was filed in the county clerk's office.

Crooked Whisky Condemned.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A quantity of whisky, shipped from the West and recently seized as crooked, was condemned in the United States court yesterday, no claimants for it appearing.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Gold closed at 117¼; gov'ts dull and steady; money 2@2½; State bonds quiet and strong; stocks closed active and strong; W. U., 73¾; Quicksilver, 16¼; Pacific Mail, 39¾; W. F., 78; N. Y. C., 102⅞; Erie, 13⅞; Panama, 130; Union Pacific, 73½; do bonds, 105⅞; Central bonds, 106⅝.

Yellow Fever on an American Frigate.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The Anglo Brazilian Times, May 22, says the American frigate Lancaster, which lost a doctor and several seamen there, took the yellow fever at Bahia, and other medical men and an officer died on the passage. By permission of the minister of marine, the frigate obtained a Brazilian medical doctor to go with the vessel to the United States.

Loss of a British Steamer.

The British steamer Amazon is reported by telegram to have sunk off Para. The crew and passengers were saved and it was expected a large part of the cargo would be got out.

New York Prohibition Ticket.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 23.—The Prohibition State convention completed its organization this forenoon, and nominated part of a State ticket, as follows: Secretary of State, G. D. Dusenberry; controller, Anson A. Hopkins; treasurer, Stephen Ayers.

Found Dead in his Bed.

ATLANTA, Georgia, June 23.—Col. B. Y. Sage, late superintendent and chief engineer of the Atlanta and Richmond Air Line railway, was found dead in bed this morning.

TILTON-BEECHER TRIAL.

NEW YORK, June 23.—In the Brooklyn court this morning Beach continued his argument by quoting from the works of Beecher. He spoke of his invitation to all parties who loved the Lord and who were not members of any church to commence in fellowship with him.

Shearman objected to these citations from the sermons or letters of Beecher on the ground that they were not placed in evidence.

Evarts intimated that from these quotations, made from writings which were not placed in evidence, the jury might confound them with the testimony which was in evidence.

Beach said he had made the quotations not as evidence but as to the contrary as theories by defendant.

Neilson suggested that Shearman could make objections when Beach got through, and Beach broke out with, "the gentleman is wrong; my quotations are right, and I challenge him to prove they are wrong."

Judge Neilson ruled that Shearman's objections were not in order when Beach closed his address.

Shearman said he would offer objection to every quotation made from Beecher's writings.

Counsel continued the citations, and said Beecher felt many parts of the New Testament have grown old, miracles have grown old and are out of date, and counsel said that if they could strike out the miracles, these evidences of the God head, why not strike out the sermon on the mount and the Lord's prayer. Counsel was endeavoring to show that when this man assailed other parties for their heresy he should look well to his own doctrines. After making a number of quotations from Beecher's works, counsel said Beecher, in one of his sermons, says he prays on the same principle that a cork is forced out of a bottle. Counsel thought it a good principle when the heart and soul are overflowing with religion. He quoted extracts from one of Beecher's talks, in which he said he would rather have been the prodigal son than his brother, who was too stingy to get drunk and too unsympathetic to live lasciviously.

Shearman asked from what extract was taken from, and Beach replied, "From newspaper report," to which Shearman protested in a tone of great indignation, that it was an outrage and an injustice, and that the extracts were incorrectly reported.

Judge Neilson stated that these extracts were not submitted to the jury as evidence, and asked Beach to proceed with his argument.

Shearman—I protest against any further quotations.

Beach—Will my irascible friend allow me to proceed?

Shearman—All this can have no effect.

Ex-Judge Morris—Well, it seems to have effect on you.

Judge Neilson stated he had read the sermon of the prodigal son in the Christian Union.

Porter arose and declared that he desired to take exception to this remark of the court.

Beach continued: He said it had been a marvel to the Christian world that when this trial was proceeding Beecher was able to continue the functions of his office; that through these four years of torture and anxiety this man had stood up, the admiration of all admirers.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Final Award of the Mexican Claims Commission.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Umpire Sir Edward Thornton has sent to the Mexican claims commission his final decision, awarding $1,000 gold, without interest, to each of the following American citizens, who put in to Lapaz in 1856, and were cruelly imprisoned, viz.: Evans, Rathborn, Satterly, Wallace, Dickendorf, Leonard, Manning, Pettijohn, Hughes, Cohen, Clews, Harper, Watson, Perry, Fletcher, Hawkins, Smith, Browning. Also the following sums: Brown, $500; Craig, $2,000; McCready, $2,052; Wray, $2,052; Carter, $2,084; Paul, $2,052; Maxey, $2,052; Sampson, $2,039; Wolff, $2,270; George Brown, $2,052; Couch, $2,039; Wilson, $2,039; Ripley, $1,000—also $1,400 with interest; King, $2,000 with $2,000 without interest; Baldwin, $500; Ballentyne, $1,500 with $1,000 without interest; Whitfield, $2,170; Turpin, $2,052; John Adams $2,039; Leaven, $7,—; Weldon, $2,039; Dusenberg, $2,253. The above are chiefly without interest. The umpire rejects fifty-two other claimants.

Counterfeit National Bank Note.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A new and dangerous counterfeit has been discovered at the National Bank redemption agency, of five dollar notes of the First National Bank of Canton, Ill. This is evidently changed from the plate on which the counterfeit on the Traders' National Bank of Chicago, and the First National Bank of Paxton, Ill., was printed.

Secretary Delano Resumes Duty.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Secretary Delano, having recovered from his recent illness, arrived here this morning, and resumed his duties at the interior department.

Receipt of the News of the Saranac Disaster.

The navy is in receipt of a dispatch from Admiral Cochrane, of H. B. M. ship Repulse, dated June 21st, announcing the disaster to the Saranac. The Admiral says: "I have dispatched Her Majesty's ship Myrmidon to assist in every possible way. I leave on my flag ship immediately on the same."

Prof. Jenney's Report on the Black Hills Mines.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The following dispatch has been received at the Indian Bureau from Prof. Jenney, dated Camp on French Creek, near Harney's Peak, June 17th: To Hon. E. P. Smith.—I have discovered gold in small quantities on the small bend of Castle Creek, in terraces or bars of quartz gravel. We arrived here yesterday. About fifteen miners have located a camp on the creek above here, and have commenced working. Gold is found from Castle creek southerly to French creek at this point; and the deposits are almost wholly in Dakotah. The region has not been fully explored, but the yield of gold thus far has been quite small, and the reports of richness of the gravel bars are greatly exaggerated. On French creek the deposits of gravel are very unfavorably situated, water supply is small and falling, and the grade is too little to admit of tailings being carried off by the stream. The prospect at present is not such as to warrant extended explorations in mining.

French Assembly.

PARIS, June 23.—In the national assembly to-day, M. Buffet, minister of the interior, expressed his astonishment at attacks upon the government yesterday by M. M. Blanc and Montjou, in the debate on the Public Powers bill. He pointed to the fact that the government put forth its programme upon coming into office, and that no disapproval thereof was then made. He challenged its opponents to bring forward a resolution condemning that programme, but to challenge the government on a question of organic law, he added, he would preserve the programme inviolate while he was in office. He acknowledges supplementary constitutional bills to be contrary to the principle of M. M. Blanc and Montjou; that they entrust the President of the Republic with the role of an American President, which would render necessary the alteration of all French laws. He instanced the law which empowers the President to fix the number of the military contingent. There was no analogy between France and the United States. He concluded as follows: In organizing a government for France we did not start from an abstract point of view; we asked for conditions necessary to place the Executive in harmony with French customs and traditions. If you could prove that the Public Powers bill was incompatible with the Republic, we think the country would sacrifice abstract principle and prefer a government more in harmony with its own character. The Right cheered the speech throughout.

Gen. Du Temple, Legitimatist Deputy, created great confusion by some intemperate remarks, in the course of which he insulted Minister Buffet and Duc D'Andiffret Pasquier, President of the Assembly. He declared MacMahon was equally guilty with Napoleon III, for Sedan. The speaker was called to order and silenced by the interposition of the House.

More Failures.

LONDON, June 23.—The morning papers announce the failure of J. H. Rundall & Son, 20 King William street, London; liabilities, £900,000. Also Wm. Marshall, of Manchester; liabilities are placed at £500,000.

Moody and Sankey.

The revival meeting, as originally proposed, was not held at Eton, because the local authorities would not furnish the police force which was considered necessary to keep the peace. In addition to this, the opposers of the movement persuaded the Mayor of Windsor to withdraw permission for the use of the town hall by Moody and Sankey, but a meeting was finally held in a private garden, at which 2,000 students at Eton, 5 masters and 500 citizens were present. The Earl of Cavan, Lord Winthesby and Earl Russell accompanied Moody and Sankey to Eton. During the service Moody announced that he had received a telegram stating that the Governor of Eton sustained the head man and removed all obstacles to the proposed meeting, but he (Moody) had no intention of holding further services in the neighborhood.

LONDON, June 23.—William & Armstrong have failed; liabilities, $1,000,000.

England's Gain in Burmah.

LONDON, June 23.—The King of Burmah has granted Great Britain the right to send forces through his dominions to Western China, if required for future expeditions.

Public Religious Processions to be Prohibited.

BERLIN, June 23.—The German government is preparing a parliamentary measure prohibiting public religious processions. This is aimed at the Catholics.

War with Burmah Improbable.

LONDON, June 23.—It is officially announced that the King of Burmah has given a satisfactory explanation of his course of action to Sir Douglass Forsyth, the British envoy, and war is now considered improbable.

Satisfaction for the Insult to the American Consul Made.

Advices from China say that the disorder in Chin Kiang, growing out of the arrest of two native soldiers for insulting the American consul and wife, has subsided. The Chinese have partially satisfied the demands for reparation.

Insurance Risks Raised in Canada.

OTTAWA, June 22.—The leading insurance directors instruct their agents to take no new risks on certain lines of property except at very high rates. It is stated that the Canadian Insurance Companies have within fifteen days lost about $250,000.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

The trouble with the Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York Central, and Erie railroads and the Erie Canal is that there is not as much freight as usual to be carried, and what there is would be still less were the freight charges to be kept as high as they were three or four years ago. Railroad managers, acting in alliance with each other, are strong, but they must yield, like the merchants, manufacturers, and farmers, to the ebb of business. The fiscal year ended June 30, 1873, saw the industry and speculative tendencies of our people in a state of great activity. We have now passed to the other extreme. Is it to be supposed that immense overgrown corporations like the Pennsylvania and New York Central lines can escape without feeling the universal influence? As well expect a barometer not to register the changes in the atmosphere. We invite the reader's attention to the following instructive comparison of the exports from the United States in the fiscal years 1870 and 1873 of a few leading articles which are among the most important of those brought to tidewater by the Western trunk lines:

	1870.	1873.
Bacon, hams, and beef, cwt	586,665	3,812,383
Lard, cwt	319,690	2,058,341
Pork, cwt	262,856	572,745
Tallow, cwt	334,045	706,880

See now the contrast between the exports of the same articles in the two periods of ten months ended respectively April 30, 1873, and 1875:

	1873.	1875.
Wheat and corn, bushels	63,205,053	69,541,416
Bacon, hams, and beef, cwt	3,323,195	2,340,538
Lard, cwt	1,827,422	1,298,361
Pork, cwt	477,974	414,931
Tallow, cwt	562,983	473,812

With regard to wheat and corn it is necessary to explain that the increase is much more than accounted for by the greater quantity of wheat exported from San Francisco. The exports from the Atlantic ports alone would show a decrease, though they include several months in the summer and autumn of 1874 when the exports were much heavier than we can hope to see them this year. How do we account for the enormous increase in the exports of provisions between 1869 and and 1873? In our opinion, it was the effect of two powerful causes. The first is the great prosperity during that period of trade in Great Britain, and the second is the increased facilities and diminished charges of moving freight by rail from the Western States to the Atlantic ports. With the revulsion which British trade has experienced in common with our own, and with the lower wages of the British laborer, the first impulse has ceased. With higher rates of freight over the trunk railroad lines the second would cease also. The public must not forget that our enormous exports of provisions are mainly the growth of the last half-dozen years, and that their permanence depends upon the ability of the foreign consumer to purchase and our ability to sell at a low price. N. Y. Tribune.

On Friday of last week the dwelling house on the farm of J. H. Nagle, near Seattle, occupied by A. Amunds and his family, caught fire from a defective stove pipe and was entirely consumed. Mr. Amunds was absent at the time, but his wife, by the help on the place, succeeded in saving most all the household goods that were in the building. The house was of the value of some $400 or $500.

The citizens of several counties in Colorado are petitioning the county commissioners to at once cease making expenditures for public improvements in the way of roads, bridges, etc. It is urged that, in view of the great losses sustained by grasshopper devastations, the property owners are really unable to meet the taxes already levied without great inconvenience.

Independent State Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—In the Independent convention at Sacramento last evening, a platform was adopted taking strong grounds against monopolies of railway communication, gas and water; calling for reform in the jury system; retrenchment of public expenditures and reduction of salaries of office; uniformity in assessment of taxes; freedom from party discipline, and in favor of all men exercising the right of suffrage. Catlin of Sacramento, Estee of San Francisco, and Gen. Bidwell were placed in nomination for governor, but without taking a vote, the convention adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning.

Nominations.

SACRAMENTO, June 23.—The Independent convention re-assembled this morning at 10 o'clock, and immediately proceeded to ballot for candidate for governor. On first ballot, Estee received 92 votes; Catlin, 86; Bidwell, 100; necessary for a choice, 143. Second ballot—Catlin, 82; Estee, 79; Bidwell, 118. After the announcement of the second vote Estee withdrew from the contest. On the third ballot San Francisco gave Bidwell 40 and Catlin 32, from which it appeared Bidwell was the choice of the convention—the whole vote standing: Catlin 79, and Bidwell 197. Bidwell's nomination was then made unanimous, amid much cheering.

Governor Pacheco has been nominated for lieutenant governor.

SACRAMENTO, June 23.—The convention reassembled at 1:30 P. M.

A resolution was adopted that the State central committee consist of one from each judicial district, elected by delegates, and seven to be appointed by the chair.

The nomination for secretary of state being in order, Jas. G. Carey, of San Francisco, and W. Roush, of Placer, were put in nomination. On vote it was announced that Carey was nominated by 144 to 133. Subsequently it was discovered that the figures should be reversed. The correction was made and Roush declared the nominee.

Controller—Lawrence E. Crane was nominated by acclamation.

Treasurer—Ferdinand Baehr, of Shasta, the present incumbent, was nominated by acclamation.

Attorney General—Peter Van Clief, of Yuba, and J. C. Love, of San Francisco, were placed in nomination. On vote Van Clief received the nomination.

Surveyor General—S. E. Twitchell, of Sacramento, was nominated on the second ballot over Wade, Ester having been withdrawn.

Clerk of Supreme Court—Paul Morrill, formerly of the Sacramento Union, was nominated by acclamation, with cheers.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—J. C. Carey, of San Francisco, was put in nomination, but declining, the choice fell on J. W. Guinn, of Los Angeles, by acclamation.

Completion of Another Road into the Yosemite.

YOSEMITE, June 23.—The first stage over the new road via Merced, Mariposa and Mariposa Big Trees station, directly to the hotel in the valley, has just come through. There is rejoicing on the substantial completion of this great work by Messrs. Washburn, Chapman & Co. This makes the third wagon road completed to Yosemite within the last twelve months, making the great valley pleasantly accessible on all sides. Stages by this route will now arrive at the hotels here at 12 M.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Relief for the Officers and Crew of the Saranac.

VICTORIA, June 22.—Lieut. Sanders and pilot, George, left town yesterday in the Hudson Bay Company's steamer Otter, which they chartered to bring down the wrecked officers and crew. Admiral Cochrane, of the British navy, as soon as he heard of the Saranac's fate, ordered H. M. S. Myrmidon, Capt. Hare, to proceed to the scene of the disaster, and a few hours later he sailed himself in the flag ship Repulse, to render all the assistance in his power. The Repulse will not return here for some weeks, but will go up some of the fresh water streams to have her bottom scraped. It is expected the Myrmidon will bring down the officers, and the Otter the crew of the Saranac to-night.

THE SUPPLIES FOR THE INDIANS.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—In reply to the statement made by Colonel Hatch at Fort Sill as to the supplies for the Indians at that agency and the indorsement of General Pope that it was idle to expect the Indians to remain on the reservation with the prospect of starvation, and the military would not be held accountable for any outbreak, J. M. Haworth, one of the Quaker agents for the Indian Territory, has written a letter to Friend Enoch Hoag, Superintendent of Indian Affairs at Lawrence, Kan. It is dated Kiowa and Comanche Agency, May 31. The writer says:

Among other things during the past winter my people have suffered only for flour and sugar, as I have been able to give them beef, bacon, coffee and tobacco. The beef has been given them much in excess of regular rations, such a course being necessary to prevent actual suffering. They have suffered for flour. They cannot subsist on any other kind of meat so well as buffalo, and their cultivated taste for and habit of eating other articles of the white man's diet has made such an inroad upon their natures that they would not be satisfied to throw away everything else and subsist alone on buffalo very long. I believe the cattle we have received and issued as a general thing have been very fair beef, as good on an average as the country would afford, taking the number into consideration. The is owing entirely to the freight contractor failing to do his duty. The large increase of supplies necessary for the increase of the military on account of the Indian troubles required a very large amount of transportation. The same contractor having both contracts may have had a larger matter than he was prepared to handle. Notwithstanding the absence of a part of the ration in kind, and a great deal of talk to the Indians calculated to unsettle them and cause a feeling of dissatisfaction to arise among them, I feel warranted in saying that they have manifested a feeling of appreciation of the circumstances, and complained much less than white people would have done under more favorable circumstances, and in no single instance do I call to mind any manifestation of bad feeling on their part toward myself or those associated with me.

A man recently went into an Indian camp on Camas prairie and told the Indians that he was down on the white men generally, and wanted to spend the summer with the Indians. He boasted of having killed white men and was ready to kill more. He had a Henry rifle and a six shooter, and acted strangely. The Indians didn't fancy such company and carried him, bound, hand and foot, to Boise City where they delivered him over to the authorities.

THE STATE DEBT OF LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—Gov. Kellogg has written a long letter to the Chicago Times in response to an editorial which appeared in that paper, in which the debt of Louisiana was set down at $50,597,384 95. He says:

The Times having stated so prominently what the debt of Louisiana is not, will you not permit me to state what it really is? In January, 1874, the bonded and floating debt was $24,832,407 90. It has been decreased by the redemption of 72 past due bonds, $72,000; by the retirement of outstanding warrants, certificates of indebtedness and payment of the amount due the fiscal agent, $1,022,860 12; by the exchange of $3,259,80 of consolidated bonds for $5,432,300 of old bonds, $2,172,020; by the exchange of $427,421 36 of consolidated bonds for $712,368 83 of old warrants and certificates of indebtedness, $284,947 53; total reduction, $3,552,727 65, leaving the actual debt of the State to-day, $21,279,680 25. The figures given in the Chicago Times, representing the present State debt of Louisiana, appear to have been taken from a report prepared more than two years ago by a Mr. Weymouth, a gentleman without official standing, but afflicted with incurable mania on the subject of repudiation. He prepared a most lugubrious analysis of the condition and origin of the State debt for the use of the committee of citizens appointed by me in 1873. This committee did not accept it, and he has ever since been striving to get it into print at the public expense, and has at last succeeded. The joint committee of the legislature appointed at the regular session last winter to examine into the accounts of the auditor and treasurer, very unwisely, as I think, permitted it to be added as an appendix to a second edition of their report issued since the adjournment of the legislature. I am assured by the chairman and other members of this committee that there was no intention to make this presentment of Mr. Weymouth a part of the res gestæ of their report. A glance at the appendix will show that it has not the remotest connection with the existing State debt, but is simply what it professes to be—a report, not before published, prepared by J. M. Weymouth for the use of the committee of examiners appointed by His Excellency Gov. Kellogg in 1873. More than $21,000,000 of the contingent liabilities of the State therein referred to—if they had any actual existence in 1873, when that report was prepared, which is more than doubtful—have since been buried forever under the sweeping repealing act of the legislature and a constitutional amendment solemnly ratified by the people.

The funding bill adopted in 1874, is in successful operation. It has been generally accepted by our creditors at home, and I have just received from the council of foreign bondholders, under date of May 20, 1875, a formal notification that, while they still condemn the bill, they are prepared to accept its provisions, being satisfied that the principle of this bill has been adopted by all classes of the citizens, and now forms part of the constitution of the State. We have funded already over $6,000,000 of obligations, and have more than $500,000 in the treasury to the credit of the interest fund. The Times says deliberately and explicitly that $50,597,394 95 is the amount of the debt of the State of Louisiana as it stood at the commencement of the current calendar year. I say deliberately and explicitly, and with the records of the State auditor, the State treasurer, and the fiscal agent to bear me out in my assertion, that the State debt, including every outstanding bond, except the old property bank bonds referred to, and all outstanding warrants of whatever kind or nature, is at the present time but $21,279,680 25, and that it will continue to be reduced until it reaches the limit of $15,000,000. The Times says that our annual interest charge is more than $3,500,000. I state that our annual interest charge is $1,050,000, and this is limited by the constitution. Misrepresentation of the condition of affairs in Louisiana appears to have been chronic with a large portion of the press. Such glaring misstatements as these I have quoted may indeed injure the credit of the State abroad, may retard the returning prosperity of the people, and may afford the politicians of other States material aid for campaign use, but can effect no other results, for even the most bitter opponents of the Republican party here know and will admit the utter falsity of the assertions made.

THE EMMA MINING COMPANY.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE VICE-CHANCELLOR MALINS, IN ENGLAND—A PETITION TO WIND UP DISMISSED.

The case of the Emma Silver Mining Company was again before the vice-chancellor's court in England on the 28th of May, on the petition presented in October last by a Mr. Askew, a shareholder, praying for an order to wind up the company compulsorily. Vice-Chancellor Malins reported the opinion which he expressed in March in favor of a winding up of the concern. He added, however, that a meeting of shareholders subsequently held had, by a majority of ten to one, decided against it. The vice-chancellor said he felt that, as against the large number of votes and voters in favor of a continuance of the company, this application to wind it up could not be entertained. It would be unjust to allow the petition to stand over, as suggested, and so let it hang above the head of the company. The petition must be dismissed; and the only question then would be whether it should be dismissed with or without costs. The petition was presented in October last. It stood over from time to time, and first came directly before him in December, 1874. Was there originally a justification for presenting it? He thought now, as he did at first, that the petitioner had been misled by the parties who had introduced the scheme into this country. The petitioner appeared to have lost about £2,500 by the share he had taken in the concern, and it was surprising, if his own statements as to the company were correct, that he should have thought it worth his while to present this petition. Still his doing so was not absolutely unjustifiable, or in itself reprehensible, and it might, perhaps, have been wiser for the parties to have acceded to the prayer of the petition in the first instance. They had not done so, but had strenuously opposed it. It was now clear that the petition must be dismissed; and he thought it should be dismissed without costs. That being so, there must be no costs given to the company, as against the petitioner the same rule would apply to the old directors, who must bear their own. Neither Mr. McDougall nor those who sided with him could be allowed any as against the petitioner. It was true they had succeeded in their views, but they must pay for their success. Mr. Bornand, who finally agreed with them, should have appeared by their counsel also. He had not done so, and must take the consequences. The result would be that every one must bear his own costs except Mr. Whinney, who would be allowed his out of the company's estate. The order would therefore be, petition dismissed, without costs.

THE FIRST NOMINATION FOR THE PRESIDENCY.—A Pittsburgh special dispatch of June 9th to the Chicago Tribune says: The Anti-Secret Society went into political business to-day, and, after adopting a platform in which God is acknowledged and Freemasonry condemned, nominated an individual named J. B. Walker, of Illinois, for president, and Donald Kirkpatrick, of Syracuse, N. Y., for vice-president for 1876. These are the first candidates in the field. The convention is a lamentable failure in point of numbers, and all the addresses are antagonistic to secret orders, and Masonry and Knight Templarism in particular.

Some people may not know that the legend "In God we Trust," has disappeared from the latest United States coinage. Yet such is the fact. The Congregationalist newspaper ascribes the change to the irritating actions of the banded zealots who demand that God shall be put into the constitution. The best religious newspapers have no sympathy with the latter undertaking.

OREGON.

There were four deaths in Albany last week.

Albany will soon claim to be the "city of churches" in Oregon.

The recent rains have done no injury to crops on Tualatin plains.

Rev. J. T. Huff has recently taken charge of the Baptist church at Oregon City.

Sodaville, in Linn county, is booming up as a resort for pleasure-seekers and mineral water drinkers.

George Russell has pleaded guilty to an indictment for obtaining money under false pretenses at Salem.

John J. Cook, of Champoeg, Marion county, has been adjudged insane, and sent to the asylum at East Portland.

Willamette Grange, in Benton county, will have a "way up" time celebrating the coming anniversary of our national independence.

The citizens of Jefferson have concluded to celebrate on the 3d of July, and have invited Rev. P. S. Knight to orate for them on the occasion.

A letter to the Record from Scio says a man near that place has a field of wheat that was sown in March which is now as high as a man's shoulder.

The young man, John Parrott, at Salem, was found guilty of burning the old tannery building and recommended to the mercy of the court. He will be sentenced on Thursday morning.

The Albanian says: "One night last week, the dwelling of Martin Wertz, about six miles south of Albany, was entered by burglars, while the family were absent in the mountains, and a number of articles of wearing apparel, both male and female, taken. Candles were left burning and some neighbors passing next morning put them out and dispatched a messenger to Albany for an officer, who, however, was unable to find any trace of the thieves."

The Albanian has been shown, by Dr. E. O. Smith, who has just returned from the Santiam mines, some fine specimens of gold, silver and copper-bearing quartz, the silver being very rich. Specimens of each have been sent to Portland and Salem for assaying, and, judging from the appearance of the specimens shown, it will "pan out" very rich. The Doctor is confident that there are rich silver mines in the Santiam mountains, only needing capital to develop them.

From the Record: At a meeting of the stockholders of East Bend Storing and Shipping Company, held at the residence of G. G. Glenn, on the Santiam, the following were elected as board of directors: John M. Harrison, Fred Steiwer, G. G. Glenn, H. E. Ankeny and Hugh Harrison. Also, at a meeting of the board of directors Fred Steiwer was elected president, and Hugh Harrison secretary. The object of the company is the building of a warehouse on the Wallamet river, near Ankeny's landing, and they have already let the contract for building the same to H. E. Ankeny.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Muir Bros. have commenced to rebuild their mills at Sooke. The foundation was laid yesterday. This energy is of the "never-say die" order, and deserves success.

The Colonist says: "The farmers of North Saanich district have selected Mr. William Reay, a wealthy farmer of that district, as a candidate for the local House."

The steamer Royal City has been purchased by Capt. John Irving, owner of the Onward and Glenora. This change will make no difference in the running of the boat, which will continue to ply to Yale as usual.

Several Indian tribes have had an interview at New Westminster with Mr. Lenihan, and have had assurance from that gentleman that their land-rights will be protected by the Imperial and Canadian governments.

Through the exertions and representations of Hon. Mr. Eckstien, U. S. consul at Victoria, instructions have been sent out from Washington to the collector of customs at Sitka to pass goods from Victoria landed at Wrangel in transitu, without requiring the production of a consular certificate or triplicate invoices.

From Kootenay it is reported that mining is very backward on account of the scarcity of water. Stock wintered badly and many were lost. Beef is quoted at 8 and 10 cents on the block. Mr. John Shaw, it is said, contemplates driving his stock across the Rocky Mountains into the Red river country in August.

An Ottawa dispatch says: "Mr. Duncan, who seventeen years ago established the Indian settlement at Metlakatlah, on the mainland opposite Queen Charlotte's Island, is here awaiting the arrival of Mr. Laird. Mr. Duncan's experience of the Indians leads him to think that treaty-making with them is a mistake. He has certain views as to Indian welfare which he desires to explain to Mr. Laird."

The Colonist says: "The Grand Concert Piano used at the theater on Wednesday evening last by Mr. Gilder is valued at $1,400, and the duty amounted to $170. The proprietor, naturally objecting to pay so high a charge during his short stay, telegraphed to Ottawa to have the customs remitted. He got a reply granting his request, provided the instrument be re-exported within thirty days of date of entry."

The plan of giving bounties for dead grasshoppers, which has been extensively resorted to in Minnesota, has given great satisfaction. Two thousand bushels of 'hoppers have been paid for in Blue Earth county, 2,500 bushels in Le Sueur county, and smaller quantities in other parts of the State. It is now said that the hunters are returning to peaceful pursuits, having about exhausted the supply of game. The grasshoppers would doubtless have left Minnesota in any event as soon as their wings had grown, but they wouldn't have done so to seek greener pastures elsewhere. The bounty system has therefore been proved valuable as well as efficacious. Rigid adherence to it throughout the afflicted region will, it is hoped, produce as good results as have been attained in China, where the extermination of pests is made compulsory, and the authorities of infested districts are held responsible for failures to prosecute the work with vigor and success.

HE KNEW HIS AGE.

In the times when the political warfare between Whigs and Democrats waxed hot and relentless there was a town out West in which the two parties were so equal in numbers that the variation of a single vote, one way or the other, might be a matter of most serious consequence. Of course on both sides sharp eyes were open and watchful. A young man came to the polling place on election day and offered his vote. It was his first appearance in the character of an elector, and he had the independence or audacity, to differ politically with his father. His father challenged his vote.

"On what grounds?" demanded the presiding officer.

"He ain't twenty-one."

"I am twenty-one," asserted the youth.

"No you ain't," persisted the father; "you won't be twenty-one till to-morrow."

"I say I will," cried the youth. "I was born on the 12th day of November. It is down so in the old Bible."

"Then it's a dot-rotted mistake," said the old man. "You warn't born till the mornin' of the 13th of November, I can swear."

"How can you swear?"

"How?" repeated the father, indignantly. "Goodness gracious! wasn't I thar?"

"Well," returned the son, with proud defiance, "wasn't I there too?"

The young man voted.—Boston Courier.

On Wednesday, last week, Joseph Brown, of Port Madison, and William Terry, of Port Blakeley, met with a very similar and painful accident, each of them having his left foot very seriously crushed while handling timber and lumber at the mills at those respective ports.

THE TERRITORIES.

Tourist travel is setting in strongly toward Colorado Springs and Manitou.

California gulch, Colorado, gets credit for contributing $4,000,000 to the gold product of the world.

It is estimated that over 5,000 men are now rushing to the Black Hills in search of—disappointment.

Gen. Crook proposes to visit the Black Hills next month, probably in company with the secretary of war.

J. W. Poe informs the Boise Statesman that Mt. Idaho has been chosen as the county seat of Idaho county.

Jim Crutcher is several days overdue at Silver City from San Francisco, and his friends are uneasy about him.

Six points on the Union Pacific are now advertising "the shortest and most practicable route to the Black Hills."

The little steamer Wenat sank in six feet of water in the Duwamish river, near Seattle, last week, having struck a snag.

Wyoming's new United States marshal has been a clerk in the postoffice department at Washington for three years past.

The bark Windward, Capt. Godfrey, with a cargo of 1,200 tons of coal, sailed from Seattle for San Francisco on Thursday of last week.

A line of tri-weekly coaches has been established between Bozeman, Montana, and the wonderful geyser region in the Yellowstone valley.

A choir of one hundred voices is being organized at Salt Lake to add to the noise and confusion produced by the big organ in the Tabernacle.

Charles Blanco, for scouring his knife blade in the flesh of Mr. Orr, of Cheyenne, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of two years.

The sulky behavior of Red Cloud, Spotted Tail and the balance of 'em, prognosticates an uneasiness of scalps this season in the Black Hills region.

A party of invalids, with wheezing lungs and intractable throat-ails, left Colorado Springs the other day for an all-summer trip in the mountains.

Most of the government officials at Cheyenne are on the "ragged edge," and not a few, among them the United States marshal, will have to step down and out.

For the first time in the annals of the judicial history of Montana, a man has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. He is a mulatto named W. H. Steers.

The Wyoming penitentiary, at Laramie, will get between 20 and 30 recruits from Cheyenne this term of court. One of the convicts is a young and handsome woman.

The failure of the government in successfully negotiating with the Sioux for the Black Hills country, is causing many of the miners to turn their attention toward Utah.

The Tribune says: "In the past year, 25 nasty polygamists, in Sevier county, have married 125 women." If this be true, it is a shame and a disgrace to American civilization.

C. B. Plummer was giving entertainments at Alta, Utah last week. The Tribune says: "Mr. Plummer is fun all over, and those who attend should go with their sides well hooped for the occasion."

William Benson, of Del Norte, is in durance vile at Pueblo, for eloping with and seducing his niece, Jennie Benson, whose father is a prominent and highly esteemed citizen of the San Juan country.

The following vessels are now on the way to Seattle: The barks Osmyn, J. B. Bell, Menschikoff, Harvest Home, Iconium and Jenny Pitts; the barkentine Harrison and the schooners Dreadnought and W. H. Meyer.

Mr. Calhoun, of La Conner, states that the prospects for abundant crops down the Sound this year, are excellent. He estimates that the grain crop of La Conner will amount to 80,000 bushels; that of the Skagit to 40,000; the Stilaguamish to 30,000 and Fidalgo Island to 20,000 bushels.

The Owyhee Avalanche of the 18th, says: "John P. F. Kelly came in from Blue gulch yesterday and reports that the boys out there are doing a smashing business in their diggings. They are raking in a harvest of the precious metal, and Joe Gross, Cris Stender and their associates bid fair to become millionaires."

The Miner notes, as an evidence of the sweet peace that reigns at Georgetown, Colorado, that a couple of young bloods undertook to run a horse race in Alpine street on Sunday, and, in doing so, ran over and knocked down the city marshal, who arose from the dust and emptied his revolver with such accuracy that the "bloods" surrendered instanter.

At Buel, the Utah mining camp, the other day, a fellow known as "Frenchy" entered a restaurant and ordered some hot cakes. The cakes were brought out, steaming hot, but "Frenchy" found a fly in one of them, and flung the dish on to the floor. The proprietor, J. D. Andrews, rushed into an adjoining room and got a double-barreled shot gun, and commenced to season French's hide with a sprinkling of buckshot. "Frenchy" is mortally wounded.

THE NEW INTERNATIONAL POSTAL RATES.—On and after July 1st, uniform postal rates will be collected on mail matter sent between the United States and Germany, Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Egypt, Spain, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, Holland, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Servia, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. After January 1, 1876, France is also to be included in the union. These new rates have been established by treaty between the different Powers, and offer, in some cases, great reductions on the charges now existing; while in others the tariff is increased. To all the above countries, the tax for letters, paid or unpaid, per half ounce, is 10 cents; postal cards, 2 cents each; newspapers under 4 ounces, 2 cents; other printed matter, samples, etc., 2 cents per 2 ounces or fraction. The registration fee on any letter is fixed at 8 cents. For letters, these rates are less than the present to Spain, Egypt, Greece, Portugal, Russia and Turkey; to other countries, with the exception of Italy, Norway, Holland and Roumania, they are increased. The newspaper postage is largely reduced in every case, excepting in that of Great Britain, to which country it remains practically the same. The postal card rate is an innovation, and the fact that a missive may soon be sent from Portland to Constantinople for 2 cents is certainly a remarkable indication of progress.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, Our Brother, Rev. Clinton Kelly, has by the inscrutable Providence of our Father in Heaven been called from earth to his reward; therefore, be it Resolved, By Brooklyn Lodge No. 115 I. O. G. T., that in the loss from our midst of Father Kelly, we have lost one whose place can never be filled, and one whose Christian teachings, by both precept and example, shall ever remain as worthy of our imitation.

Resolved, That the temperance, imbued with Christian love, which he so earnestly taught, shall ever be our guide, our watchword and our shield.

Resolved, That as a small token of the respect and love we bore for him, that our hall be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and to the papers for publication, and be spread upon the minutes of our lodge.

LETTER FROM PUGET SOUND.

SEABECK, W. T., June 21, 1875.

The lumber trade of Puget Sound, in place of diminishing, is increasing in demand and production. The lumber mills at Seattle, Port Blakeley, Port Discovery and Port Ludlow have increased their power by additional boilers, more powerful engines and other machinery so as to be able to fill pressing orders from San Francisco. For the same reason the mills have added a more than usual number of hands to their working staff. Port Gamble has taken in about thirty more men within the last month. These mills are largely supplied with men from the ranks of the immigration to the Pacific coast, by way of San Francisco and Victoria to the Sound, which route is a convenient and cheap way of getting here.

To visitors, it is a matter of great interest to see at almost any of the mills on the Sound, at this time, as many as from three to five and seven large vessels loading lumber all at once. The bustle and excitement, at the same time perfect order and efficiency, in handling so much lumber is a sight not to be seen every day outside the waters of the Sound. A considerable number of Indians and Kanakas are employed as extra hands at loading.

THE SEABECK LUMBER MILL

Is one of the successful lumber mills on the Sound. It is located on a beautiful bay on Hood's canal, twenty miles south of Port Gamble. Although in a comparative remote point from the main route of travel on the Sound, yet it is a mill that will compare favorably with any one on the Sound for its size. It makes an average of 55,000 feet of lumber in 12 hours and 25,000 laths; or, 16,500,000 feet of the former and 7,500,000 of the latter in a year. There in an average of forty-five men employed regularly in the mill, and ten extra hands engaged when required for loading vessels and other outside work. There are, in round numbers, about fifty men employed in supplying the mill with logs. The machinery of the mill is of the best kind; the discipline is admirable; the facilities for loading vessels are very convenient and efficient. The company own four barks that carry a united freight of 2,150,000 feet of lumber, and the steamer Colfax for towing. They own a general store for the accommodation of the workmen, the families of the place and the settlers of the neighborhood. They run a mill for grinding feed for cattle used in the logging camps and elsewhere, and a donkey engine for loading vessels with heavy lumber. The mill is owned by Adams, Blinn & Co., of San Francisco, and known there as the Washington Mill Company. Mr. Richard Holyoke is the efficient superintendent, and Mr. A. H. King is the experienced boss of the mill.

THE TOWN OF SEABECK

Is well laid out on rising ground, with an easy grade and lying well to the sun. The cottages for families are well arranged, beautiful in appearance, neatly furnished and surrounded with cultivated gardens that indicate taste and refinement. There are 33 families, with as many ladies at the head of them, 60 men, 63 children and 20 of a floating population, making 176 men, women and children. There is a good school house and a superior teacher for the children. The mill company provides an excellent dining room and meals for the mill hands, and a large hall for public meetings for instruction or amusement.

HOOD'S CANAL,

On which Seabeck is located, is 60 miles long and three miles broad. It is one of the many beautiful sheets of water of the Sound. The magnificent Olympic range of mountains, with their crowns of perpetual snow, come into full view all the way. The canal, for many miles, runs almost at the foot of this grand mountain range. Such water, forests and mountain scenery, during this charming weather, is worth going a long distance to see. Mount Baker is seen far in the distance, in the opposite direction. One of the practical advantages of Hood's Canal is that the largest vessels that sail the Pacific can go up it as far as Union City—more than 50 miles—the channel being from 60 to 20 fathoms all the way. What added to the enjoyment of this trip was the company of three jolly commercial travelers from San Francisco, soliciting orders for their respective houses. Where the prey is, there the eagles assemble.

SOMETHING WORTH KNOWING BY SAWMILL MEN.

Mr. J. M. Coleman, who runs the Seattle lumber mill, has invented a board machine to take the place of the Edgar table, that is a vast improvement in speed, in cutting lumber to perfection, thereby saving in his mill $25 a day by avoiding imperfect lumber. If all that Mr. Coleman claims for it is correct, the invention is deserving the early attention of all the mill owners on the Sound. He will have it patented in a short time. Mr. Coleman has the reputation of being one of the best mechanics on the Sound and a man of superior inventive genius. NORTHWEST.

WHAT RAILROADS ARE PROFITABLE.

In the Commercial and Financial Chronicle we find the following tabulated statement of railroad earnings, which is very suggestive to promoters of railroad enterprises, and should be encouraging to the people of Oregon, who live in hopes of communication with the East:

RAILROAD EARNINGS IN MAY.

	1875.	1874.
Central Pacific	$1,797,000	$1,811,699
Chicago, Danville and Vincennes	55,182	41,646

St. L. Iron Mt. & S'n	1,340,911	1,178,902
Union Pacific	4,391,821	3,660,751
Total	$18,167,641	$16,303,463
Net increase	1,864,181

*Three weeks only of May in each year.

If you deduct the increase in the earnings of the Union and Central Pacific Companies—$1,909,722—it shows the astonishing fact that instead of an increase this year over last, there is a decrease of $45,442. More than that: it demonstrates that while the aggregate of the other roads mentioned have shown the above decrease, the increase of the Central and Union roads has been more than twenty-two per cent., notwithstanding the interruption of travel for two weeks in April, and notwithstanding that last year showed a large increase over 1873. It is stated by authority that of the net earnings, upwards of seventy per cent. is derived from local traffic. No better arguments than these statistics can be furnished for the speedy completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad. It runs through a better country by far for local freights—this any man who has ever lived in Montana, or who is acquainted with Oregon, Idaho and Washington, will confirm—and it is from this source that nearly all the profitable earnings come. Its controlling grades being just one-half of those on the Central and Union, through freights can be hauled for a much less price at a profit. It has at its Pacific terminus inexhaustible beds of coal that experts have pronounced equal to the celebrated Cumberland for steam purposes, where steamships can be supplied for five dollars per ton less than in San Francisco. It passes over no lofty elevations, as does the other route, and will therefore be less troubled by snow.

For the sake of the people of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska—and other grasshopper-eaten and tornado-stricken regions, as well as for the sake of our own people, we are sorry we have not now railway communication direct with the East. It would be a blessing to the immigrant, who could then with less discomfort come here and get a fertile farm at a cheap price, where neither the curculio, the fly nor the grasshopper has yet found an abiding place; and it would be a blessing to our State whose greatest need is more of thrifty population.

But the daylight, we hope, is near. It seems impossible that the northern route can long lie dormant, when the one now running is such a splendid success.

PLEASED ALL ROUND.

We were agreeably surprised Tuesday morning to see that the ring organ appeared quite satisfied with the result of the city election which took place on Monday. It was pleased to see that while we were happy our neighbor was by no means miserable. We accounted for this fact, which at first seemed unaccountable, by supposing that even the scratch by which a Mayor was elected by the ring, but shorn of all the power of the office by the election of a council and all the other city officers by the people's movement, was just that much more than the ring organ had hoped for. But the Salem Statesman seems equally well pleased with the result, and puts its rejoicing on the ground that in some way the election of Chapman is to contribute to future ring victories. Thus does that paper felicitate itself and all good ring men over the result:

> Last Monday may be said to be the opening of the political campaign in this State. As it foreshadows future political action and results, it gives occasion for every Republican in the State to rejoice. The Republicans have succeeded in defeating the Independent-money-bag-confederate-police-ring candidate for Mayor. This gives a death blow to the so-called Independent party.

And the Record, Independent, is also happy over the same event, and disposes of the ring organs in this handsome paragraph:

> The Portland Bulletin and the Salem postmaster are in ecstacies over the election of a renegade Democrat to be the Republican Mayor of Portland. His majority was only six, and his election was due to the influence of the saloons who did not like Mayor Failing. On the rest of the city ticket the Independents had it all their own way, and they have the control of the Council, so that they can control the Mayor himself and make his office merely nominal. But it is astonishing how small a "crumb of comfort" will make these poor fellows contented. How they will crow over a poor little success that, compared with "the light of other days," ought to make them ashamed and "hide their diminished heads" in sorrow and regret. Well! if they are satisfied with an average majority of over 100 against them, they deserve to be counted as the Mark Tapleys of political misfortune.

So everybody is pleased, and nobody grumbles. Everybody thinks his crowd got away with the prize. That is certainly a delightful state of things. And it shows, too, what capacity the ring politician possesses for being happy on small provocation.

THE STATESMAN MAKES A MISTAKE.

The Salem Statesman has discovered that in the Portland city election last Monday, "money was most lavishly squandered, and all the power of the police ring, as corrupt and unscrupulous as ever was organized in any city in the land, was strained to its utmost tension." That is not true. The police commissioners have a strict rule we are told, prohibiting all active work in elections by the police force. At all events, it is a fact that the police declined to do so much as advise any person what their preferences were in the contest. Some of them, to our certain knowledge, did not even vote.

Nor do we believe the story about the squandering of money. True, it was rumored on the evening before the election, that the ring were throwing money around pretty lively, and knowing their former practices, we supposed the rumor was truthful. But from the best evidence we can obtain, we think it hardly likely they spent on election day more than about $1,500, which added to the amount paid to two or three saloon keepers down, would make the total of their corruptions in this election not more than say $2,000, which is a mere bagatelle to what they used to spend when Holladay was in his glory and Hipple was living. No; it is not true that the ring squandered much money on the election.

The Salem Record is in error with regard to the result of the charter election in East Portland. It says the Republican ticket was elected, with the exception of street commissioner, which was a tie, and the councilman in the Third Ward. That is a mistake. There was no election of mayor, and the Independent candidate for recorder was elected. He was of Republican antecedents, and hence was mentioned in the published report as a Republican. But he ran on an independent ticket, and beat both the regular Republican and Democratic candidates.

The annual examinations in the public schools of this city are now in progress. Portland's schools are her pride; and the examinations show annually not only that the pupils are making good progress in their studies, but the system itself is constantly undergoing improvement and the grade of proficiency in all classes being elevated. Persons interested in the cause of education will find a visit to these examinations agreeable. Patrons of the school especially should endeavor to be present a part of the time, as encouragement to their children.

A PROFITABLE ADVERTISING JOB.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The list of delinquent taxes in the District of Columbia published in the National Republican for the first time yesterday is probably one of the most profitable advertising jobs ever given to a ring organ. It occupies 420 columns, and is, by law, to appear four times at the rate of 25 cents a line for each insertion. The total amount of the bill will be more than $90,000, of which more than $70,000 will be clear profit. The history of this advertising job is just now especially interesting. The act of Congress passed June 20, 1874, abolishing the Territorial Government of the District and creating the commission, directed the publication of a complete list of all taxes in arrears on the 1st of March last, in a newspaper of the district, eight times. As soon as this act was passed, the influence of the White House was solicited by a representative of the Republican to secure the job for that paper, and Gen. Babcock, either personally or by letter, requested Mr. Blow, who had just been appointed one of the district commissioners, to give the contract to the third term organ. It was understood to be the especial desire of the President that the newspaper which was accepted throughout the country as his accredited representative should be in this way rewarded for its fidelity. Mr. Blow promised Gen. Babcock the job for the Republican, and in accordance with this promise a contract was afterward made on the terms already given. Had not the law been changed, the bill, according to that contract, would have amounted to nearly $200,000, of which at least $170,000 would have been profit. At the last session of Congress, the act of June 20, 1874, was so amended as to provide for four duplications instead of eight, and to postpone the advertisement from March to June, thus reducing the number of publications, and cutting down the expenses one-half. The expense has been still further reduced by the settlement of a great number of delinquent taxes within the past three months. But the sum of $70,000 is still a handsome profit on the work, and is ample remuneration for the energy and devotion with which the Republican, for about a year, advocated a third term for Gen. Grant.

Col. T. Edgerton Hogg arrived in Albany on Tuesday last, overland, from "Frisco."

Ordinance No. 1047.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of Montgomery street lying between Fourth and Tenth streets.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of Montgomery street lying between the west line of Fourth street and the center of Tenth street, shall be completed in the manner hereinafter provided on or before the first day of September, 1875.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank or other obstructions (sidewalks, crosswalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade and otherwise in good condition, excepted.) If the obstructions are not removed by the owners of the adjacent property within three days after notice, they shall be removed by any, become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading to the established grade, and laying sidewalks, crosswalks and plank gutters where necessary.

Section 4. The work to be done and materials furnished shall correspond with the provisions of and under the restrictions contained in sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12 of Ordinance No. 793, entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets."

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for, receive proposals and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this Ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

Passed the Common Council June 16, 1875.

W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved June 18, 1875.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED

The Headquarters of both political parties have again by common consent been established at ISAAC BLUM'S Store, which he has elegantly refitted to meet the requirements of the occasion. This place has become the recognized resort of connoisseurs, who pride themselves on the fact that they smoke Blum's Cigars and pay for them.

This card is published for the information of strangers. It is therefore well for visitors from various parts of the State and abroad, as well as San Francisco drummers and such like, to bear this in mind and act accordingly.

Parties desiring Imported Havanas or Key West Cigars by the box will please call before the present invoice is disposed of.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 24, 1875.

CITY.

A SURPRISE PARTY.—Last evening a large number of the young friends of the Misses Olds, gathered at their residence, taking them completely by surprise, as they came prepared to spend the evening, having provided themselves with the necessary refreshments and etceteras for passing the hours lightly away. Games were started and all entered with zest into the sport until the sound of music proclaimed that the devotees of the "light fantastic toe" would have a chance to "trip the fleeting hours away." All went merrily on and the young people separated with music in their hearts and bright wishes to the fair young hostesses of the evening.

AN EXCURSION PARTY.—Next Monday Mr. Collins of East Portland, and several other gentlemen, will go out into the vicinity of Eagle creek, where they propose to spend a couple of weeks in hunting and fishing, and various other rural amusements. They will go prepared to wage a war of extermination upon the finny tribe, the quail, deer and pheasants with which that section of country abounds. There is no doubt but that they will come home laden with the trophies of the chase, for their guns are like Davy Crockett's, and need only to be pointed at the game to make it come down.

STRATEGY, MY BOY.—A disconsolate swain living in the city across the river, mourning over his trials and tribulations, says that a number of handsome young married ladies living in that city are in the habit of coming to his house and borrowing his baby, which they carry with them around the streets in order to avoid and prevent themselves from being talked to death by some gay young gallants who are always in the way. This may do very well over there, but we can assure them that there is no one baby living that would bluff some of the young talkists on this side.

ORDINATION OF DONG GONG.—Quite a large audience gathered at the Baptist Church last evening to witness the impressive ceremonies of ordaining Dong Gong, a Chinese convert, an elder in the Baptist Church. Rev. Addison Jones, of Salem, preached the opening sermon, Rev. J. A. Baker, of Oakland, delivered the consecrating prayer. Rev. J. D. Pierce extended the right hand of fellowship, and the Rev. Dong Gong pronounced the benediction. There were thirty of his countrymen present, who paid close attention throughout the entire service.

CORRUPTION IN COURT.—Quite a sensation was created in court yesterday morning by Judge Shattuck announcing that one of the jurors in a certain case had complained to him that one of the parties to the suit had approached him and tried to influence him in his decision. The judge said that he would mention no names, but would turn the whole matter over to the district attorney for investigation.

SAMPLE RECEIVED.—Lovejoy & Co., of Oregon City, have place on our table a sample can of cherries, which they are putting up at their canning establishment. This firm propose to put up other fruits and vegetables and aim to build up a trade by offering good articles at prices which will compare favorably with canned goods imported from abroad. As a home enterprise it should be encouraged.

STREET MEETING.—Quite a stir was created at the street meeting yesterday by an outsider who was anxious to get his oar in and enlighten the people as to his peculiar views and tenets. The supposition of many was that the man was partially demented. The police advised him to keep still, while the Christians quietly vacated the ground and left him in possession of the field.

BROUGHT OVER FOR REPAIRS.—The steamer Welcome brought up from Kalama this evening a set of locomotive driving wheels belonging to the N. P. R. R. They will be taken to Celilo to the O. S. N. Co.'s shops, to be re-turned, the company not having a lathe of sufficient capacity upon the line of road to do the work.

SPECIAL TRAIN.—Mrs. Phelps has made arrangements to have a special train leave Albany at 4 P. M. on Monday, stopping at points on the road, arriving in time to afford those taking advantage of the special trip to attend the theater and return the same evening after the close of the performance.

NOT A TIE VOTE.—In our report of the result of the election in East Portland on Monday last, we stated that the vote for street commissioner was a tie. The official count shows that Tom Turnbull was elected by a majority of one. There is no change in the remainder of the report.

ASSIGNEE IN BANKRUPTCY.—Yesterday Mr. B. Barnett was elected assignee in bankruptcy of the estate of C. H. Friendly, lately adjudged a bankrupt.

BRIEF NOTES.

Steamer arrived at 1:20 o'clock this morning.

Street improvements going on in all parts of town.

Election of officers by Mystic Lodge, K. P this evening.

Minerva Lodge, I. O. O. F., meets at 8 o'clock this evening.

Rain and mist keep the base ballists from the diamond field.

The leading question: "Have you been to hear Hammond?"

Prof. Freeman has recovered from the effects of the runaway accident.

The High School concert will probably be held at Masonic Hall, July 3d.

Felix Evans, one of the sufferers by the Seneca disaster, has nearly recovered.

Fire alarm boxes all up and the fire gongs in position at each of the engine houses.

Members of the Anti-Melancholy Society are requested to meet next Friday evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

A portion of the machinery for the new sawmill has arrived from Knappton and is lying at the Central dock.

The Democratic State central committee meets at Bingham & Bellinger's law office to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M.

The Columbia river rose one inch at Wallula yesterday. The Wallamet rose two and one-half inches here during the same time.

It is nothing unusual now-a-days to see persons walking the streets in summer clothing carrying cloaks and umbrellas for fear of Oregon mists.

The steamer Gov. Grover, from Corvallis and intermediate ports, arrived at noon yesterday with a cargo of flour which will at once be transferred to the City of Vienna.

The Forward has completed the discharging of cargo and will to-day vacate her place at the Pacific dock for the Garibaldi, which will immediately commence to break cargo.

Bishop J. T. Peck, of the M. E. Church arrived by the steamer Ajax last evening. He will proceed at once to Salem and this evening will deliver the annual address to the graduates of Willamette University.

Mr. L. W. Chittenden, deputy postmaster in this city, feeling the need of a short vacation has taken a furlough for a few days and gone up the valley to ruralize among his country friends. Charles Cole takes his place in the post office during his absence.

Wm. Smith, drunk and disorderly, fined $10 or five days in jail.

Mrs. Smaldron, dead drunk, fined $20, but let go if she would leave town.

Mike Rainey, drunk, was fined $1, but let go to his work as his offense was light.

John Collins, A. Stewart and Wm. McMahon, drunk and disorderly, were each fined $5 and costs.

C. W. Holsaple, a young man of 18, for an assault upon a Chinaman with a deadly weapon, was discharged.

Up to 9 o'clock last evening two arrests had been made: Taylor for assault and battery and Flannagan, drunk and disorderly.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Forenoon Session.

The convention was opened with prayer by Elder James. After the hymn, "Come Holy Spirit Heavenly Dove," etc., C. Johnson was requested to read an essay on the aim of the Sunday school, but having made no preparation in that direction, he delivered a very able address upon that subject extemporaneously. He advocated the idea of personifying the word of God, of taking every one, young and old, and teaching them in an associated capacity. "The question is," said he, "can we not gather together upon the Sabbath day to study the Bible? Begin while young, because the young mind retains far better than that of the old." He would take the little children and train them early. The aim of the Sunday school is to instruct the human soul. We can all agree upon this idea, viz: Hold up the Bible and say here is the word of God, what does it say? He believed that God intended to bring back, through the Sunday school, the church to its primitive condition. Another aim was to make a teacher of every Christian. He believed that the Bible was going out of the common schools of our country and we might just as well admit and prepare for it—the signs of the times indicate it. The remedy for this is to make the Sunday school a more efficient field for the conversion of our children. He believed it was better to leave the Bible out of the common schools than to allow the youth to receive instruction from it through those who cared but little or nothing about Christianity, as was often the case.

On motion a committee of three was appointed on order of exercises, as follows: Elders E. Russ, Huff and Stearns.

On motion visiting brethren were invited to seats in this body. Dr. Atkinson, of the Congregational church, responded to the invitation. He said that the question concerning the Bible in and out of the public schools might be made a subject of prayer.

Elder James, of Canada, related a touching incident illustrative of the great aim of Sunday schools, which he believed to be "the leading of little children to Jesus."

The report of the committee on religious exercises was read and adopted. The order of exercises provided for was: Essay on "Temperance in the Sunday School," by Mrs. Jennie Stewart Briggs, in the forenoon; and in the afternoon an address by Rev. Addison Jones, of Salem, on "Sunday School Music," to be followed by an address by Rev. J. C. Baker on "Sunday School Literature."

Mrs. Briggs' essay was quite interesting and instructive. She said until the last year the church has apparently followed the world in temperance reform. We have only to point to the numerous temperance organizations to prove that the church is tardy in leading, and that the world is appealing to her to help as it marchaled its hosts against the mighty foe. The church should take the lead in the strife. While we should spare no effort in pulling out those already in this horrible pit, we should use every means God has given us to prevent the drawing in of others. In concluding this essay, Mrs. Briggs said that it was in the name of Jesus alone that we can hope for the salvation of our children.

On motion twenty minutes were devoted to three minutes speeches. Rev. D. J. Pierce endorsed the essay of Mrs. Briggs, and recommended the introduction of Ritchie's "Scripture Testimony against wine," and Mrs. Mary D. Challis' works into our libraries.

Another speaker said if you want to work this evil out of the land work through the Sunday School and by the children—through the pledge.

Elder Russ thought we had better give most of our attention to the children because if we would reform some of the old wrecked vessels, they would have more power for evil.

Rev. R. C. Hill endorsed the essay, because it supported temperance with the principles of the Gospel of Christ.

Rev. Mr. Bond was much pleased with the essay for the same reason.

Mr. Johnson did not believe that there was a temperance organization in the land that would stand forty-eight hours if it were not for the Christian people in them. He concluded long ago that we had better come out of these organizations and run our churches as temperance organizations.

The committee on credentials reported. Report adopted.

On motion, Professor Bailey was invited to a seat in this body as a delegate from the Baptist college at McMinnville.

A committee of three was appointed to prepare the reports of the various Sunday schools for reading, consisting of Rev. Mr. Russ, President Bailey and Rev. S. Hill.

Adjourned until half-past 1 o'clock P. M.

Afternoon Session.

Convention was opened by singing "I hear the Saviour say," etc.

On motion of Rev. D. J. Pierce, a committee of three was appointed to consider the expediency of making this convention a permanent organization. The committee appointed were: Bro. Albert Kinney, Bro. Geo. P. Newell and Rev. S. E. Stearns.

Rev. Addison Jones, of Salem, delivered an address on Sunday school music, in which he said music divides itself into as many classes as there are temperaments. There are two great classes. One is like somebody's old clock that struck ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one. The second class commences at the other end, and strikes the other way. What kind of music shall we select for our Sunday schools? He would be very sorry to have music used in the morning services that would not be fit to be used in the Sunday school. He protested against the division of music in religious service. Teach the children "Old Hundred" and other songs of like character.

Rev. Mr. Russ did not favor division in music.

W. C. Johnson favored commencing with simple songs for the young and gradually lifting them up to songs harder to be understood.

Rev. Mr. Baker did not believe in divorcing the church and Sunday school in any respect. He recommended Gospel songs to the Sunday schools. He said "Old Hundred" was murdered as a general thing.

Rev. R. C. Hill thought that we must commence with songs suited to the capacity of the child. As Paul says, feed them on milk until they are strong enough to use meat.

Mr. Newell said he considered it wrong to use one kind of music in the Sunday school, another kind in the church and still another in the prayer meeting.

Rev. J. C. Baker, Sunday school missionary, delivered an able address on Sunday school literature. He thought Sunday school books should be: 1st, Biblical; 2d, attractive; 3d, readable; 4th, they should be placed in the reach of all. He spoke of the effort that was being made to conform to these rules. "Who," he asked, "will give us a biblical literature?" He claimed that the Baptist Publishing Society could give us the only literature that we consider biblical in all its parts. He called the attention of Sunday school workers especially to two book, the "Normal Class Manual" and the "Baptist Question Book," which are of peculiar interest to all Sunday school workers.

Mr. Pierce recommended the use of Franklin Johnson's "Heroes and Judges, or International Sunday School Commentary."

The Committee of Sunday School Statistics reported

REPORT.

A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed by the chair, consisting of President Bailey, Rev. E. Russ and W. J. Laughery.

On motion an executive board was appointed to do the business of the convention during recess, namely: D. J. Pierce, of Portland; T. V. Hackleman, of Albany; W. C. Johnson, of Oregon City; Judge L. S. Green, of Olympia, W. T.; and E. Russ, of Amity.

The executive board was authorized to do the business of the convention during the year, including the programme for the next annual meeting.

On motion of W. C. Johnson, Rev. J. C. Baker was invited to Oregon and Washington Territory whenever he can come to organize Sunday school institutes within the bounds of this convention.

The method of Sunday school work was taken up and discussed for half an hour.

J. C. Baker, of San Francisco, suggested the following plan of Bible study: 1st, Thought; 2d, Meditation; 3d, Analysis; 4th, Personal application; 5th, Practical application; 6th, Helps. Go to the class with your Bible only, and adopt something like the following as a plan of teaching: 1st, Be natural; 2d, Address the whole class; 3d, Be definite; 4th, Teach by analogy; 5th, By illustration; 6th, Teach with a purpose.

Mr. Pierce thought we lacked unity. The teachers should get together and compare notes. He recommended teacher's meetings; also, that the pastor preach on a subject connected with the lesson. He suggested that this course be pursued by the pastors for the ensuing six months. He recommended expository sermons—"talks on the Bible."

The convention adjourned sine die, after adopting the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are gratefully returned to the various transportation lines that have extended favors to delegates in coming and returning.

Resolved, That we gratefully testify to the generous hospitality of the friends and brethren of Portland, who have entertained us during the sessions of this convention.

ORDINATION OF THE CHINESE MINISTER.

A LARGE AUDIENCE AND AN INTERESTING CEREMONY.

As announced yesterday morning the ordination of Dong Gong to the ministry was completed yesterday evening. The audience room of the church was filled, many persons from other parts of the State being present to witness the ceremony.

At the hour appointed for the ordination 30 Chinamen, lead by a teacher of the Chinese Mission school, entered and took seats which had been previously arranged for them. The exercises were opened with singing, in which the Chinese took a prominent part. The song "My days are gliding swiftly by" was rendered, after which Rev. J. C. Baker read the second psalm; and a prayer was offered by Rev. Mark Bailey.

The ordination sermon was then delivered by Rev. Addison Jones, from the text, "If thou put thy brother in remembrance of these things thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine whereunto thou hast attained."

A prayer followed, and then Bishop Heber's grand old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," was sung with an earnestness that showed that all participating felt they were engaged in a missionary work. The laying on of hands by the presbytery was then performed by Revs. R. C. Hill, T. J. Huff and G. W. Bond, and it was explained by the first-named of these that it was not supposed any blessing was conferred by this ceremony, but it was merely done to carry out the form prescribed by the Saviour more than 1,800 years ago.

The council then dissolved, after a benediction by Dong Gong.

After the dissolution of the council a sermon was preached to the Chinamen present by Rev. J. C. Baker, and interpreted by the newly-ordained minister; and this was followed by a discourse—manifestly a very earnest one—by Dong Gong, to his countrymen, after which the audience dispersed, with the usual benediction.

AMUSEMENTS.

Capt. Ankeny has received a telegram from D. G. Waldron, manager of the Alleghanians, announcing that this party will arrive in Portland July 26th.

"Alphonse" was produced, for the first time, last evening at the New Market Theater. The house was well filled, many persons making a special trip to the city with the intention of seeing the performance. Alice Dunning (Lingard) and Dickie Lingard bore off the honors in the play, as hearty applause given at times seemed ample proof. We attended too late to witness the entire performance, but saw sufficient to satisfy us that the ladies in question have established themselves as thorough artistes in their profession. They dressed and acted the characters allotted to them with a proper appreciation of what was required of them. The play gave entire satisfaction. The evening's programme closed with Lingard in his sketches, in which he introduced many new features. A capital programme is announced for this evening. "Charity" will be presented for the first time on Friday evening, and a matinee is announced for Saturday afternoon.

THE COURTS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

WEDNESDAY, June 23, 1875.

U. S. vs John R. Carr; case set for trial at 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

Adjourned until 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, J.

George H. Durham appointed to act as district attorney during the absence of H. Y. Thompson, district attorney.

State of Oregon vs Louis Vincent; plea of guilty, as charged in the indictment; Friday, June 25th, fixed for passing sentence.

Thomas Sherlock vs J. P. Smith; demurrer to answer sustained.

D. Jacobi vs B. Elwert; verdict for defendant.

J. W. Perlot vs N. Chapman et al; decree for want of answer.

W. G. Jean vs Jas. Simons; referred to H. H. Northup to take testimony.

Chas. Schumacker vs S. W. Dodd; change of venue to Marion county.

J. Hodge excused for the term.

Isaac Barnes vs Thomas Dean; on trial.

PERSONAL.

We were favored with a call from Mr. W. S. Plummer, the patentee of "Plummer's Patent California Fruit Drier." Mr. Plummer is traveling in the State in the interest of the drier, and is making arrangements to put up several machines in this State—one at Portland, one at Salem and at other points. He thinks that after these driers have been in use a short time, and the merits fully determined, the people will want no other, and for drying hops they have no equal. He is so struck with the beauty of the State that he has determined to make this his home, and put a shop here for the manufacture of the drier. He cannot but meet with success. If everything is favorable, he will have one of the machines in operation in this city within ninety days.

BALL AND BAT.

At a full meeting of the Pioneer Base Ball Club, held last evening, it was decided to challenge the Arcadians to play a match game of ball, to be played upon the Academy grounds Saturday next, at two o'clock P. M. The Pioneers will meet and play a practice game to-morrow upon the same grounds.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

C. H. Prindle and wife to James Watson lot 5 and the south half of block 189, consideration $2,500.

James Johnson to Olif Johnson, one half interest in the S. W. ¼ of S. W. ¼ of section 29 township 1 range 1 east, in Multnomah county, consideration one dollar.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Ladies who wish to have their own hair braided, made into switches, or worked up into any kind of ornamental work for use or preservation, will do well to call on or send to Mrs. LARSON, Morrison street, between Second and Third. She does all such work very neatly and upon reasonable terms. je2 d1m

The railroad war and other events that have occupied the attention of the public for day's past were nothing as compared with the excitement created by BECK & WALDMAN, the well-known Clothiers, who are selling their Summer Stock of Clothing, Men and Boys' wear, at fearfully low prices. Before making a purchase step into their place and see what they can do for you. The stock of furnishing goods at this house is complete.

Big Bonanza's are all very well in their way, but that popular dealer in Clothing, JOS. KOHN, opposite the National Bank, is content to serve his many patrons and the public in general with the very latest goods in his line, and to give the purchaser the benefit of low prices during the dull times. His stock of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, etc., was never more complete. You will never regret your purchases at Kohn's. Call to-day.

The celebrated Polar Soda Water can be found only at the "German Pharmacy" of Wm. Pfunder, lately removed to New Market Theater block. All the ladies of Portland take this refreshing drink at the above place since its opening. Syrups better than ever. Reputation of the "Polar" fully sustained.

RAFFLE!

Mrs. Fitzpatrick's Singer Sewing Machine will be raffled at the Catholic Library Rooms on Saturday, June 26th, at 8 P. M.

COLD LUNCHES.—The oyster season having closed, WALLER & SON, Oak street, between First and Second, will serve Rare Lunches to their patrons at all hours. The OXFORD SALAD DRESSING, their own preparation, is meeting with great favor. Try it.

At The GREAT EASTERN CLOTHING STORE they are offering the finest Clothing to be found in the city, at prices that defy competition. There you can select from the latest styles which are laid in upon the arrival of every steamer from San Francisco. A full line of Furnishing Goods, Youths' Suits, Valises and Trunks constantly on hand. Observe the sign, "Great Eastern Clothing Store," W. HARRIS, Proprietor, 125 First street.

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH.

Excepting the bell tower located at the corporation shed, the new system of fire alarm is complete and in position. The raising of the tower thirty feet necessitated the taking down of the old tower. This has been done, the posts spread forty inches, and now workmen are replacing the braces. It is expected that all will be complete within one week's time. Chief Engineer Hallock has kindly furnished us with the locations of the boxes, and directions and cautions necessary for the proper working of them. They are as follows:

No. 5. Tiger Engine Co's house, Fourth street.
No. 6. Protection Engine Co's house, First street.
No. 7. Jefferson and E. Park, N. W. corner.
No. 8. Morrison and Tenth, S. E. corner.
No. 9. N. Eighth and E, N. W. corner.
No. 12. S. W. corner Morrison and First.
No. 13. S. W. corner Washington and Front.
No. 14. Second street, front of police building.
No. 15. First street, front of New Market Theater.
No. 16. N. First and F, Clarendon Hotel.

DIRECTIONS TO KEY HOLDERS.

Upon the discovery or positive information of a fire in your neighborhood, unlock the station box and pull down upon the small brass hook. If you then hear a small bell strike inside the box, you will know that your alarm is being transmitted correctly.

If on going to the box for the purpose of giving an alarm you should hear the little bell inside the box striking, you will know that the alarm is being sent in from some other station box and that any other action is unnecessary.

The alarm is given by repeated blows upon the large bell, the gong in the engine-houses and the small bells inside the station boxes, thus, for example:

Box No. 5. Five consecutive blows with an intermission of three seconds between blows.

Box No. 14. One blow, a pause of six seconds, and four blows in succession as before.

The alarm is repeated four times from the signal box.

CAUTION.

Do not give an alarm for any cause other than an actual fire.

Do not signal for a fire which is nearer some other station box than your own, it being better for you to hasten to the other signal box rather than bring the whole department to your locality.

Avoid all tampering with the boxes and apparatus or opening them for exhibition purposes.

Be sure your box is locked before leaving it.

Do not give your key to irresponsible persons.

It would be well enough to cut these out and place them where they will be convenient for reference, as it may be some time before the Common Council will have cards with the directions printed upon them.

REV. E. P. HAMMOND IN PORTLAND.

Promptly at the sound of the bell the people commenced to gather, and it was but a few minutes until the church was well filled with an anxious and inquiring throng. The meeting was opened by a series of prayers with remarks by Bros. Bentley and Chattin. Mr. Hammond then read from the 13th and 14th chapters of Numbers, elucidating and illustrating in his usual and forcible way by stories and exhortations. Then commenced a series of praise offerings, in which each seemed to vie with the other and endeavor to be on their feet first. The enthusiasm extended even to the galleries, and the piercing truths of salvation were sent back to the audience below. An inquiry meeting was instituted and a number were found seeking the way of Life.

The usual open air meeting was held upon the streets and short addresses made by different ministers.

The evening meeting was as usual large and well attended.

Morning service at the Presbyterian church at 8:30 and at the rink at 7:30 P. M.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a special meeting of Barlow's Gate Grange No. 137 P. of H., the following was reported and adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an All-wise Providence to remove from among us, by death, Elizabeth Butler, a worthy member of this Grange; therefore be it

Resolved, That we mourn the loss of an efficient and earnest co-worker in our cause, society a faithful and upright citizen, and her family a kind mother.

Resolved, That we extend to the afflicted family of Brother Butler our sincere sympathy and condolence in this the hour of their trouble.

Resolved, That the chairman of the committee be instructed to furnish the bereaved family of deceased with a copy of these resolutions; also one to the OREGONIAN and Mountaineer for publication.

THOROUGHBRED
MERINO
BUCKS AND EWES.
I OFFER FOR SALE AT MY RANCH, IN LINN county, seven miles from Harrisburg,
40 MERINO BUCKS,
1, 2 and 3 years old.
40 MERINO EWES,
1, 2, 3 and 4 years old.
Which will be sold at reduced reasonable rates for cash, or for good notes, at 12 months time, bearing interest. These are the FIRST CHOICE of the
MONSON & JEWETT IMPORTATION,
Brought to Oregon in October, 1873, and proved to have been the best importation ever made to our State. Seventeen of these Merino Bucks last year sheared 331½ pounds, ranging from 16 to 25 pounds averaging exactly 19½ lbs. to the fleece. The fleeces of the Ewes last year averaged 14¾ lbs. and this year they average over 16 lbs. to the fleece. My Bucks are not yet sheared this spring.
These sheep are PERFECTLY HEALTHY and thoroughly acclimated, and show great improvement on our soil, both as to size of animals and weight of fleece.
ALSO, FOR SALE,
Thoroughbred English Cotswold Bucks and Ewes.
As fine as are on the Coast.
My Cotswold Bucks last year averaged 14½ lbs., Ewes 11 lbs. to the fleece.
Address me at PORTLAND, or visit the ranch where my agent will show the stock and the sample fleeces. Sample fleeces can be seen at L. GOLDSMITH & CO.'S, Portland.

RAILROAD INVESTMENTS.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

In a recent article on the bonded indebtedness of the railroads of the United States, we called attention only to the investment in what are called—sometimes the holders, doubtless, think ironically—railroad securities. That form of indebtedness is estimated at $1,700,000,000, and more than one-third of it is not now paying interest. But the whole capital invested in the railroads in the United States is $4,000,000,000, considerably more than half being in stock. Perhaps it is not too large an estimate to say that two thousand millions of the money invested in our railroads has ceased to pay interest. Any one looking over the stock quotations finds so few railroad stocks standing at or even near par, that, if seeking an investment, he has little encouragement to try any of them. Even roads that, a few years ago, were paying good dividends, earning honestly every year a handsome interest on their cost, have fallen into financial embarrassment.

The Rockford, Rock Island, and St. Louis Railroad Company has furnished a striking illustration of railroad bankruptcy. It was built with bonds, as has been the modern fashion, the corporation not risking much in the way of stock, but preferring to use other people's money instead of their own. The debts of the corporation are now about twelve millions of dollars, and the road is estimated to be worth about one million. If it should sell for that amount, the holders of the bonds would yet get no more than half of it, as the other half would be used to pay floating indebtedness and the lawyers' and trustees charges. Practically, the men who have advanced the money will see no return from it; but it is safe to assume that a good many persons who have had the management of the funds and the building of such portions of the road as have been completed, have made themselves rich. This is an exceptional case, and yet it is not alone as an instance where large sums of money have been absorbed by railroads and railroad managers, while the men who advanced the funds seek in vain for some return for their advances. There are many other roads where stock to the amount of millions of dollars long ago became worthless, and bonds supposed to have solid security, now find no buyers. Extravagant management, expensive litigation, schemes of magnificent development, have done for the property what they do for property—ruined it; and, besides these forms of squandering, the managers and their friends have grown rich, while the real owners of the roads have grown poor.

The fortunes that it has been possible to make out of the construction or operation of railroads, has led to much of this railroad swindling—for it deserves no milder name. A railroad is projected, not because there is any demand for it, but because it is necessary to have some base of operations upon credulous money-lenders. A little stock is subscribed, a small per cent. paid in, either in notes or uncertified checks, and the corporation organizes, issues its bonds bearing a high rate of interest, publishes its flaming circulars, secures its financial agents, who are to have a large commission on every bond sold, advertises by the column in newspapers of wide circulation, and sometimes buys editorial notices in papers that make money under cover of the cloak of religion, and begins to realize the profits of its grand confidence game. The managers, then, contract with themselves, perhaps under the thin disguise of a Credit Mobilier organization, and proceed to put into their pockets as much of the money as they can and escape the clutches of the law, keeping up the delusion of building a railroad as long as it is profitable, and then leaving the bondholders, scattered over half a continent, to take the property. As they have no use for it, however, are too much scattered for any organization, and have lost too much to spend more in litigation, these same operators buy the railroad for less than its actual cost, take in, as partners, the managers in some connecting road that is earning more than its expenses, and either sell or lease the property at a rate that gives them another profit, at the expense of another set of property-owners.

SEQUEL TO SHERIDAN'S WEDDING.

SUICIDE OF A CAVALRY OFFICER WHO WAS IN LOVE WITH THE BRIDE—SWALLOWING A RING.

[From the Washington Star, June 8th.]

Captain William H. Brown, of the Fifth United States Cavalry, cut his throat with a razor last Friday afternoon at 21 West Twenty-seventh street, New York. His age was thirty. He told his friend, Colonel W. G. Rankin, the evening previous, that he was "out of sorts," but would soon be "all right" again, and invited the Colonel to call on him again on the following day. The Colonel did so in company with Mr. Costa, a friend, and on knocking at the door, an indistinct and feeble voice said "come in." On entering they found Capt. Brown partially undressed on the floor, with a deep gash in his throat. Besides two razors lying beside him, he held in his hand a broken gold chain. He recognized Colonel Rankin at once, and said: "It is no use sending for a doctor. He can do me no good. It is all over. I have no one to live for now." He then added: "I have swallowed a ring which I wish you to get." A doctor was sent for, who sewed up the wound, and paid him other necessary attention, but on his departure, the sufferer experienced a sudden convulsion, and in his agony burst open the wound, and died soon after of hemorrhage.

THE STORY OF THE RING.

Deputy Coroner Leo made a post mortem examination of the body of Captain William H. Brown, of the Fifth United States Cavalry, who committed suicide on Friday. At the time Captain Brown was dying he spoke of a ring that he had swallowed. This ring was found. It was of plain gold, with raised, chased edges. On the inside of the ring was engraved: "Be satisfied." The story of the ring was not ascertained, but if rumors be true, he was engaged to the young lady in New Orleans who has since become the wife of Phil. Sheridan.

INCIDENT FROM "SHERMAN'S MEMOIRS."

That very remarkable book, "General Sherman's Memoirs," contains some information as to the manner in which San Francisco obtained its name which we do not remember to have seen in print before. In the summer of 1848, General Sherman, then an artillery Lieutenant, was stationed in California, and, in recalling reminiscences of those days, he imparts the information of which we have spoken. While at Benicia, on Carquinez Straits, he became acquainted with Dr. Semple, an Illinoisan, who published the Californian, which afterwards became the Alta California of to-day. This Dr. Semple, foreseeing the growth of a great city somewhere on the Bay of San Francisco, selected a site on Carquinez Straits and laid out a city which was called Francisca, in honor of the wife of General Vallejo. At this time, the name of the town near the mouth of the bay was Yerba Buena. Some of the prominent men of the latter place, foreseeing that Francisca might be a rival, and that there was something in a name, induced the Council to change the name from Yerba Buena to San Francisco. Dr. Vallejo was very much incensed at the adoption of a name so closely resembling Francisca, and in turn changed the name of his town to Benicia, which was Mrs. Vallejo's other name, and San Francisco and Benicia the two places remain to this day. General Sherman says: "That Benicia has the best natural site for a commercial city I am satisfied; and, had half the money and half the labor since bestowed upon San Francisco been expended at Benicia, we should have at this day a city of palaces on the Carquinez Straits."

The prevailing tendency in our local money market is in the direction of a full supply of loanable funds, but there is no marked change in rates or terms either at the banks or on the street, though outside parties, in order to close negotiations, are apparently willing to make slight concessions to borrowers' demands. The produce receipts of the past few days have been comparatively light, and the requirements of those in that trade is limited to a small compass. Merchants, as a rule, throughout the entire season have been compelled to make but few calls for financial aid in the way of loans, and have come through on a good basis. Remittances from the interior, in single instances, have been slow, but as a whole their volume has been rather above than below the average of former years. The present situation of local finances is favorable for a good business season during the fall months, and though no general spirit of speculation is rife, nor any extended preparations are being made for it as yet, still we believe the signs of the times indicate a reasonable degree of activity in trade circles any way during the latter autumn. With more life in the matter of improvements in our city and State, the fair prospects for the crops and the very considerable number of immigrants of a desirable class now coming into our State, would give assurance of a very large and permanent growth to all our industrial and commercial interests during the next year.

In San Francisco, a few weeks ago, there was a feeling of very considerable closeness in money matters, but latest mail advices denote a slight recuperation. The savings banks of that city loaned money last month on "inside" city property at 9@10 per cent. Of the amount put out there in May the German Bank put out $405,800, chiefly at 9 per cent.; Hibernian Bank, $263,500 at the same rate; Clay Street Savings and Loan Society, $218,300, mostly at 10 per cent.; and Odd Fellows' Bank $106,000, at the same rate. In addition to those sums, $355,000 was loaned by private capitalists and incorporations. During all the spring months business of all kinds was unusually active in San Francisco, and hardly of average briskness in Portland, so that many persons coming through that city to Portland have made comparisons unfavorable to the latter, and which would not hold good under ordinary circumstances or the year round.

The week, so far, has been almost noted for quietness in trade matters. Buyers of general merchandise are in the market in very small numbers, and their purchases are usually of selected goods to replenish stocks broken by the spring trade. Seasonable summer goods are in tolerably fair request, and while few heavy purchases have as yet been made, the aggregate shipments to interior points foot up quite encouragingly.—Prices for nearly all classes of imported goods show no signs of fluctuation, though a few exceptions are noticed. Dry goods of nearly all descriptions have been low throughout the season, and came down nearer to ante-war prices than before, since 1861, and woolen goods and some cotton fabrics are still tending to lower quotations. Groceries seem steady as a rule, but sugars are likely to decline ½@¾ cents ℔ lb ere long, unless the refineries choose to put up prices, before the reduction recently made in San Francisco affects this market. Bags and bagging are lower than last year.

The Produce Market

Shows no more activity than was observed early in the week, and with one or two exceptions receipts have been rather more than usually light for several days past. While it could not be expected that grain would be moving rapidly at this season, or that other fall crops would be in oversupply, minor commodities, such as dairy products, eggs, poultry, etc., which are ordinarily abundant at this season, are coming forward in less quantities than we have been accustomed to see them, and prices are quite in favor of sellers. The range of prices is not altered since our last report. Wool is receiving a good deal of attention, and there are quite a large number of buyers, yet all occasionally fall in offers to holders, and much of that coming to hand is held by commission houses or stored to await shipment. The quotations given yesterday are equally good to-day.

COUGHS, HOARSENESS INFLUENZA,

Sore Throat, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Asthma, Bleeding of the Lungs, and every affection of the Throat, Lungs and Chest, are speedily and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This well known preparation does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most medicines, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS. SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, Boston. Sold by REDINGTON, HOSTETTER & Co., San Francisco, and by dealers generally.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, than can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
